In Memory

It's hard for us to put our feelings into words, but the task is made easier by the knowledge that every student in this school, every teacher and every member of the school staff feels the same way about Judy. Her thoughtfulness and charity earned her many friends; her personality and pureness of character endeared her to them.

Few of us could offer something for having lived sixteen years on this earth; but Judy not only lived a virtuous, unselfish life;

her self sacrifice and genuine love for others was always evident, always placed before her own desires. She was a rare human being, endowed with a wonderful personality, intelligence, and popularity; and underneath it all, a pure heart.

Judy will forever remain a living example; her life, a goal for us to strive to model; her memory, a shining spotless reminder that we are created for a purpose.

Administration

Mr. Handel and Dr. Swanson are the two wardens of our prison of knowledge. These two men, friendly but stern, guide us through our six years in the Junior and Senior divisions of our hallowed halls of learning. Each man, a true blue friend that must not be forgotten as we move on to our grown-up worlds.

In every school there must exist two groups:
Those being taught — and those who teach.
And every day of every week
From hour to hour
We find that we cannot avoid
THE FACULTY
But as we come up through the ranks
We realize the worth
Of teachers who can be our friends
Not only English, history, and math
But guidance, companionship and help.
No more the feudal system
Of teaching masters and learning serfs,
We at last have come to see
That teachers are People — Too.

Seniors

Some schools write histories of their Seniors
From birth to graduation.
But we won't.
As the Seniors tell everyone anyway
All we know is that it's been fun
Making money — or trying.
All culminated in a trip —
A smashing success — Washington!
And now at graduation

We wonder how it's so
From seventh grade skating parties at Creekside
Various dances — and the Prom and the Ball —
Superior lunch hours, that thesis
To now — why, it's all gone so fast!
But we hope that the memory
Will always remain
As we thumb through these pages:
The Class of 1958.

Gus: "Let's go skiing" — did Art say he didn't like girls? Hmmm. . . Gusty: "The Hungarians will rise again!" There goes our vivacious class wit — off to cross-country practice! Dave: How he manages to get out of classes to take pictures is a mystery — and — "Be sure to buy the Orchard Park Press!" Milly: "Say, Lieve . . . what? . . . never mind!" And we used to think Milly was quiet!! Liz: "You got troubles, kid?" Oh, to hear Liz say, "Free cones at the drug-store!" Dave: "Forget it." Let thy speech be better than silence, or be silent. Hare: Always a friendly smile — who's Pat, Jim? Carol: "Honey, you know it" — a girl with a talented smile. Don: "I'll never tell" — a fine fence in the Senior Play.

Fred: Oh, so helpful and friendly when there's a complicated physics problem to solve. Kell: Our happy card-player. The only way to have a friend is to be one. Chuck: A person who will do anything for anyone; a great swimmer, and the cutest boy in the class! Paul: Wherever there's Paul, there's motorcycles and class debts! Baird: Pretends he doesn't like girls, but we know better. Bucky: "I'll help ya" — characteristic of pick — better known as Pawnee Bill. Ronnie: With the distinction of being the shortest boy in the class; fun shall be my passport. Terry: A sunny smile that sells itself — our modern dancer in the operettas. Jim: "That's what I say" — One of the sorrowful parts of our year was when Jim departed for greener(?) pastures to Chicago. Judy: Diamonds and redheads are her theme. Pains of love be sweeter far; Than all other pleasures are. Brad: "There's always tomorrow" — but sometimes tomorrow is Monday morning after a long week-end! Cindy: "H'LO!" — Her ambition: to be a good wife and skier — which comes first, Cin? Luke: "What do you say, Sam?" I will be the pattern of all patience. Betty: "Steady Eddie" — The power of beauty I remember yet. Raffy:

"Get smart" — She spends her time collecting class debts, giving Senior Ball parties, and . . . Doug? Bonnie: "Did you see the way he wrestled?" — those big brown eyes; no eyebrow pencil, either. Mare: "That's life in a big city" It's hard to tell whether Mary will make her mark in life as a skater, a dancer, or just by being so popular! Mac: Can't he ever get to school on time? A little mischief here and there."

also*

Sue: "Act like a Senior!" — Class individualist — known for her clothes, college weekends, and straight-forwardness! Lieve: "I wish you kids could have a beer party" — with Belgian beer, of course! Nance: "She appears of happiness — and when she sings, her voice proves it." Tom: "When angry, count ten; when very angry, swear!" The post of honor shall be his, for he has earned it well. Al: "Ding it!" He'll make scientific history — we hope! Dick: Doesn't believe in going to Physics — he can usually be found flirting in the halls — if he hasn't gone out for a coffee-break! Bob: Someone once said "a smile is worth a thousand words" — and Bob has just that smile! Dave: "Love's passives are his active part." Margie: "The only reward of virtue is virtue."

*Don't you clean
all you clean?
I hope you get those films developed soon. Have fun in all you do.*

Wiede: Our friendly Super-Duper Salesman — his pet project is being kind to new Senior girls! Judy: The manner of giving is worth more than the gift. Ken: "Good morning" The manner of giving is worth more than the gift when that manner is friendly and kind. Paul: "Of all the animals, the man is the most unmanageable." Al: He hath a will and knows the way. Ray: One of the Super-

Duper's finest, Ray is also one of the class's finest. He seems to be always having fun. Joan: "Fairer far than all fine days" . . . With an impish smile that feels of secrets hid. Char: The first to claim a silver football; "Her manner is sweet, and quiet, and petite." Carol: "Ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, with an engaging smile that holds the glance."

English class?

Exchange

We say with pride
 We have two Exchange Students!
 Lieve from Belgium
 And Denny from Spain.
 It's funny, but they seem to
 Have always been here.
 A part of our class
 They share the joys, the despairs,
 The dances, the homework,
 Yet they're of a world so different
 It's almost hard to picture.
 And we hope that they will never forget
 America — Orchard Park — and us!

Oh, for life on a bicycle
Through German cities and farms
Sausage and beer . . .
Lederhosen . . .
Quaint little towns
Thatched roofs and mills
These are Dede's memories
Of adventures untold,
Living in a land of mystery
Of Lapps and lakes and trees
Jill met the Finns . . .
And loved their baths
And the people.
Jo, what's it like?
Does it rain every day?
Fiestas?
A world entirely new
Made perfect by her family
With love and fun in school.

Students . . .

Dinner is served . . .

A real close shave

The rehearsals we don't see

"Annie Get Your Gun"

Where are the guns?
 When you're out there — Smile!
 It's all over now except for memories;
 Memories of fun — of talks backstage
 Of singing those songs,
 Of watching Annie and Frank
 And dreaming someday . . .
 The costumes, the scenery, the make-up,
 And an audience that loved the entire show.

Tall in the saddle.

Lock the doors, no one leaves.

 Who are the Sobbettes?
 What's the Junior Pup Tent?
 We all know
 As the Juniors march forward
 Climaxing the year
 With a wonderful Prom.

Dean,
 Where's that camera?
 Good luck next year in school. I know you'll do well. Lots of luck! (Be good?)
 Keep those flash-cullos
 poppin!
 Have fun

National Honor Society

How does it feel as they walk down the aisle? How does it feel to be tapped, the trembling hands grasping the candle as the student body looks on? The dignity of the maroon and white robes is embodied in their faces, solemn and purposeful if only for once in their lives! Renewal of purpose and meaningful words — Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service.

Quibble

TFCW

Unfamiliar name
But oh, so familiar reputation
The Passing Bell claims
The eager attention of the school
As each searches for his name in print.
The literary side uplifted
By our converted Quill
And every member of the two-fold staff
Endeavors to please us all.

Athletic Association

Characteristic of all AA members:
The gleam in their eye as they stamp your hand,
And take your money
Yet no one cares, for this group
Keeps O P's spirit alive.

Varsity Football

Unbelievable! Marvelous! Stupendous! What words could be used to describe a phenomenal football team! The "fool all" Quakers upset the applectart of football predictions which placed them in the dark confines of the Division I cellar for the 1957 football season. The rip snorting, strong willed Quakers were led by their hard charging captain, Bill Selent, a Division I all-star. Paul Schregel placed second in Division I scoring records. Doug Pierce, also a first team all-star, led the brick wall line of the maroon and white. There were so many boys, all with an intangible spirit, that each player deserves a gold plaque dedicated to his play on that fairyland team. Fourteen seniors leave the team this year and those fourteen are just about the backbone of the team. But be sure and watch John Conners, John Selent, and John Summers when the grid iron of old Orchard Park becomes hot with football fever next September. A shiny new trophy, a winning football, and a defeat of Amherst - all symbols of a great season.

J. V. Football

The Junior Football team at Orchard Park matched its mother club, the Varsity, by ending the season in first place. This team produces the future varsity ball team. Two likely varsity stars for future years are Gus Besch and Doug Scherff. Both scored 20 points to pace the scoring of the junior team. The over all team was one of good balance and strong attacks. This helps to justify the fact that this younger, but seemingly old in football wisdom, team scored a touchdown from at least every possible scoring position. These terrific football players only show that a future varsity is insured of a winning ball club. With the assurance these boys produce, it is only fair to call their team the Organization for Stars of Tomorrow.

Cross Country

The Harriers of Orchard Park sometimes called the "rabbit chasers"; a sport that requires strong legs and good breathing. Jack Gallagher did a marvelous job running, plus playing football on Saturday afternoons.

All the runners ran their legs off; Bill Booth, Doug Beale, and Joe Petro contributed much. The team finished third in league play with three wins and three losses in a sport that requires the fewer points to win.

Baseball

A fitting climax to a year of sports is the game of baseball, which puts the lid on the box of athletic contests. The pitching of Don Zentz and Norm Durnford added those blank frames to the opponents' scores. Doug Pierce was an able backstop and shared the catching duties with Frank Petro, who was just as strong. Every man was outstanding in the hot dry dust of Green Lake, pushing the team on to a season filled with anticipation and hard work.

A sport that requires a good physically fit body is the highlight of the sporting season at Orchard Park. Basketball is the name of this sport that reigns king during the winter months. The maroon and white net men faired well in a league loaded with strong opposition. The team started slowly at the beginning of the season but steadied out to a season filled with hard work. Some of the members like Dave Spink, Bill Borchert, Bill Selent, Tom Wakeman, and Don Zentz are seniors that will have to be replaced. Howie Corbin, Scott Johnson, and Brian Steisslinger will stand next year as the varsity team and they should carry their job expertly.

J. V. Basketball

The farm club of the varsity basketball team is what the J.V. Basketball team is sometimes called. Each year the team produces players that must carry on the duties of a team, that is superior to all basketball teams at school. This year the team has greatly followed past traditions. Scott Johnson, and Brian Steisslinger have been groomed under the skillful Mr. Behm, to take over as members of the varsity basketball team of next year. The team started off slowly by losing their first two games but they quickly settled down to a strong and steady season.

This is the youngest team in the OP athletic program that is engaged in competition with other schools. This team, made up of eighth graders and freshmen, is the first step for those boys interested in continuing to the varsity basketball team. Mr. Stewart grooms and teaches these boys and readies them for their second step upward. The team this year showed a strong and well co-ordinated attack which lead them to victories over Williamsville and Amherst. Each boy played his best in order to show that no school was going to sneeze at the Orchard Park Freshman Basketball Team.

The grunt and groan sport at O.P. is this year under a new coach, Mr. Seskin. The team once again showed a winning and strong season. This year many seniors exit and leave big gaps to be filled. Doug Pierce, the heavyweight division wrestler, leaves, as well as Bob Flick and Jack Gallagher. The men chosen to fill the empty spots will be selected from Dan Delmonte, Dick Lang, Jim Gerling, Dave Oaks, and Pete Gobel. A team that can always be counted on to produce a winning season best describes the wrestling team from Orchard Park.

Boys' Swimming Team

The crack of a pistol, the hard splash of a swimmer, and thus another swimming meet starts. The maroon and white merman, this year under the psychological influence of Mr. Whiteside, showed a strong team and hugged their opponents all year long. Tim Gow, Chuck Kendall, and Denny Garcia are the three exciting seniors who leave three big gaps to be filled. The up-and-coming George Schlenker, George Gibson, Jack Hayhurst, and John Ernst will reinforce the team next year, and lead them onward to a victory-filled season.

Girls' Swimming Team

This is the one sport at school where the girls can give the boys some competition. Since the swimming pool opened the girls at O.P. have been telling the boys that some day their day would come where there would be meets for girls only and also a meet where girls swam against boys. Well, this year it happened. At the beginning of the year a meet was arranged in which girls met boys. Of course the boys won and the girls have quit their bragging. They have turned their attention to the meets where they swim against girls now. At their first meet they squeaked out a close victory over the Delaware Y.M.C.A. Their hard work and willingness have placed them solidly on the school athletic program. If they keep up all they have been doing thus far maybe some day they might beat the boys.

Track

The "wind-up" sport at Orchard Park each year, once again continued to set school records and amaze Orchard Park coaches. Two school track records went under the axe by executioners Dave Sheldon and Pete Schregel, who set records in the 180 yard low hurdles and the 440 yard run respectively. The Section 6 tournament championships saw the maroon and white mile medley relay team of John Paul, Pete Schregel, Paul Schregel, and Jack Gallagher walk, or it should be said, run away with a first place. The team climaxed the season behind Amherst and Hamburg, but greatly added honor to the name of Orchard Park. Next year speedsters Paul Schregel and Tom Wakeman will carry the torch for the track team and should carry it well.

Tennis

This sport, relatively new, started the whole school on a tennis trend during the hot summer months. Thanks to Mr. Erickson, the team continued this year and wound the season up with a won four, lose eight record. Dick Baldwin, Mike McNerney, Bob Hoppe, Mike Wilcox, George Lamont, Bob Tinker and Charlie Anderson won a total of 15 individual matches under the broiling sun. Next year a team of good experience and agility should burn up the courts and turn in a winning year.

J. V. Baseball

This year the season was filled with hard work and lots of experience. Usually wearing varsity hand-me-downs, they once again developed a team that should fair well against all opposition on the varsity next year. The members included Pete Goebel, Greg Henning, and Paul Klas. Next year should be a strong season with Scott Johnson and Chick Evans in there to bolster the team.

Golf

The future Sam Sneads and Ben Hogans of Orchard Park produced a solid, compact golf team this year under the only woman golf coach in Western New York. Jerry Wahlenmayer played an excellent season that led the team to a third place in the league standings. Next year the team will be well strengthened by Brian Steisslinger who returns after completing a fine inaugural year on the fairways.
